Early life and history

Dag Heward-Mills attended Achimota School where he had his O and A level, after which he qualified into the University of Ghana Medical School. He has been a preacher since he was a teenager.^[7]

Lighthouse Chapel International

Heward-Mills founded the Lighthouse Chapel International church in 1987. The church now has over 1500 branches in 68 countries.^[8]

Prolific author and conference speaker

Heward-Mills has authored several books, including Loyalty and Disloyalty, the first of his books to be published in the United States.^[8] His books are available in 27 languages.^[9] He has also become a sought-after international speaker in conferences like the Church Growth International and the Pentecostal World

Fellowship Conferences.

He also hosts his own annual Iron Sharpeneth Iron Work of Ministry conference for pastors and church leaders^[10] in Accra, Ghana. These conferences have grown over the years and currently attract thousands of ministry leaders from more than 40 countries. Additionally he founded a bible school - The Anagkazo Bible Schools, to train men and women of God^[11] in the practical work of the ministry.

Healing Jesus Crusades

In 2003, Dag Heward-Mills started the Healing Jesus Campaigns (HJC), then known as crusades. This was a purely evangelistic arm of the ministry and the first HJC was held in Accra in September 2003, with approximately 2000 people in attendance. He has held 95 campaigns in more than 40 towns and villages; in many places where the HJC has taken place, the local people had never seen an event of that size. He has become one of the most well known evangelists of our time.^[12] The early campaigns were focused in Ghana but the campaigns soon moved throughout the entire West African region (to countries like Mali, Burkina Faso, Liberia, Guinea Bissau, Guinea, Niger, etc.) and made an impact in some traditional Islamic strongholds.
